THE FARM SYSTEM

Three changes have taken place in the Tiger farm system, Montgomery replacing Knoxville as the Class AA affiliate and Rocky Mount and Daytona Beach supplanting Duluth and Lakeland respectively as Class A subsidiaries.

Working agreements have been renewed with Syracuse in Class AAA and Jamestown at the Class A level.

The five clubs comprising the minor league system in 1964 gained 348 victories against 321 defeats, Syracuse showing the way with 88-60. The Chiefs finished second after leading the International League several times.

Syracuse produced an array of young stars, including Jim Northrup, who hit .312 and was voted Rookie of the Year; Bruce Brubaker, who led the league's pitchers with 15 wins and a 2.62 ERA, and Ray Oyler, brilliant shortstop acclaimed the outstanding defensive player of the circuit.

Duluth finished third in the Northern League with 61-55. Lakeland was a strong third in the first half but fell to seventh in the second round of the Florida State League's split season. Jamestown wound up fourth, six games over .500, in the New York-Pennsylvania League. Knoxville finished fifth in the Southern League with 67-73.

SPRING TRAINING

The Tigers have trained at Henley Field in Lakeland every year except three since 1934. During the war years, 1943-45, the team trained at Evansville, Ind.

Henley Field is located at the northern limits of the city and is easily accessible from the new trans-Florida Highway, Int. No. 4. Playing conditions at Henley Field are maintained as close as possible to those of Tiger Stadium. The field ranks with the best in major league parks.

A new clubhouse was completed in 1959, and has all modern equipment. There is a special press room and a dark room for photographers. The press box at Henley Field is spacious and modern.

Tigertown, where Detroit farm system players are screened and trained, is less than a mile north of Henley Field.

TIGER STADIUM

Recent alterations, notably in the box seats areas, have brought the capacity of Tiger Stadium to 53,089 seats.

Official figures list 9,377 box seats; 22,210 reserved; 11,502 unreserved grandstand; and 10,000 bleacher seats.

Baseball has been played at the site since 1900, a year before the American League was born with the Tigers as a charter member. Known as Bennett Park at the time, it became Navin Field in 1912, Briggs Stadium in 1938 and Tiger Stadium Jan. 1, 1961.

The playing field and stands at Tiger Stadium are considered among the finest in baseball. Facilities for players, fans, press, television and radio personnel are excellent and improved whenever possible. Although occupied frequently by more than 50,000 fans, it can be emptied in less than 10 minutes.

More than 10,000 square yards of sod are needed annually to repair the wear and tear of both baseball and football on the playing area. Sprinkling and drainage facilities are among the best and the latest-type field cover can be placed in less than a minute.

PITCHERS

HENRY JOHN AGUIRRE (Hank)

Born, Azusa, Calif., 1-31-32 (33) 6'4" 210 B-R&L. T-L. Married Barbara Harter, 11-27-54. Children: Rance David, 5-16-57; Pamela Ann, 12-12-58; Robin Melissa, 12-21-61; Jill Marie, 6-13-64. Att. East Los Angeles J.C.

Slumped sharply in 1964 due to combination of factors. In 27 starts, completed only three, failed to survive first inning three times, lasted less than four six times, did not reach decision 11 times (Tigers winning five, losing six). Tigers furnished two runs or less in 11 of his 27 starts; twice victim of late-season pulled leg muscles. Only 2-3 in first 12 starts July 1, did not win again until Aug. 23, then took three of next four starts. Top performances: 3-hitter vs. Cleveland (3-1) July 1, (faced 30 batters, walked none); 12-1 decision at Los Angeles Aug. 28, giving up one hit in seven innings before sidelined by injury. Re-established claim to "worst hitter" title with .057 (3-for-53) at plate following 10-for-76 in 1963; lifetime now .077 (21-for-273).

HOW THEY BECAME TIGERS

Recent research reveals that the nickname "Tigers" first was applied to the Detroit baseball club in 1895—a year earlier than previously reported.

Baseball historians long have credited Philip J. Reid, city editor of the Detroit Evening News, with first using the name in print in 1896. However, George Stallings, manager of the Detroit team which was then a member of the Western League, took credit for the move which resulted in the nickname when he put his players in black-and-brown striped stockings which, he said, reminded the fans of "tiger stripes."

New evidence makes it appear that an unidentified headline writer at the Detroit Free Press actually originated the Tiger nickname in 1895, a year before Stallings became manager and before the team was wearing striped stockings.

In its early years, the team was simply called "Detroit," "the Detroit," sometimes the "Wolverines" (a name more familiarly associated with the University of Michigan) and at times the "Creams."

The "Creams" broke into print in 1894, the year Detroit entered the Western League under the ownership of G. A. Van Derbeck, a transient from Los Angeles. A writer of the time derisively referred to his aggregation as "what is purported to be the cream of California baseball players"—which may account for the name.

Then on April 16, 1895, the Free Press printed a headline over a baseball story which read: "Strouthers' Tigers Showed Up Very Nicely." On the same page, a string of baseball notes was headed: "Notes of the Detroit Tigers of 1895." Curiously, not once in either story was the word "Tigers" used.

From then on, the Free Press fairly regularly called them the "Tigers" and in May, 1895, the Sporting Life began using "Tigers" in its dispatches from Detroit. However, up to July 1, 1895, careful search of the files discloses that neither the Detroit Evening News or its Sunday paper, the News-Tribune, had used "Tigers."

Thus it seems that the Detroit Free Press must get credit for originating the Tiger nickname in 1895—unless someone has other new evidence to the contrary.
